In re:

PETER G. KUDRAVE,

Debtor.

Case No. 2:17-bk-17577-RK

Chapter 11

MEMORANDUM DECISION ON FINAL
FEE APPLICATION OF LAW OFFICES
OF DAVID A. TILEM, FORMER COUNSEL FOR DEBTOR IN POSSESSION

Pending before the court is the Application for Final Fees and Expenses for Law Offices of David A. Tilem ("LODAT"), former bankruptcy counsel<sup>1</sup> for Debtor in Possession Peter G. Kudrave, filed on August 3, 2018, Electronic Case Filing Number ("ECF") 98, amended on September 28, 2018, ECF 112, and supplemented on April 22, 2019, ECF 138 (collectively referred hereto as the "Fee Application"). The Fee Application is a contested matter within the meaning of Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9014 because the Debtor in Possession and now Reorganized Debtor, Peter G. Kudrave ("Debtor"), filed declarations in opposition to the Fee Application. ECF 108, 115, 124, 125.

---

<sup>1</sup> The court granted the Motion of Law Offices of David A. Tilem to Withdraw as Attorney on August 2, 2018, effective upon the entry of an Order confirming Debtor's First Amended Plan of Reorganization. ECF No. 97. The court also confirmed Debtor's First Amended Plan of Reorganization by order entered on August 2, 2018. ECF 96.

1 After LODAT filed its original final fee application on August 3, 2018, Debtor filed a 2 declaration in opposition to the Fee Application on August 15, 2018. ECF 108. By order 3 filed and entered on August 24, 2018, the court continued the hearing noticed for the 4 original Fee Application, for August 28, 2018, to October 24, 2018 because notice of the 5 Fee Application was insufficient as not all of the creditors were properly served as required 6 by Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure 2002(a)(6) and 9013. The court also accorded 7 some latitude to Debtor as a self-represented party by allowing additional time for him to 8 state his specific reasons for his opposition in writing. ECF 109.

9 On September 28, 2018, LODAT filed its amended Fee Application and noticed the 10 amended application for hearing on the continued hearing date of October 24, 2018. ECF
11 112. On October 22, 2018, Debtor filed a motion for continuance of the hearing on the Fee 12 Application for medical reasons on grounds that he was “physically and mentally unable to 13 appear or testify” in opposition to the application on October 24, 2018 because he had “a 14 massive, double bypass heart surgery performed [on] September 13, 2018.” ECF 117. By 15 order filed and entered on October 22, 2019, the court continued the hearing on the Fee
16 Application to December 5, 2019. ECF 118. On December 3, 2018, the court on its own 17 motion continued the hearing on December 5, 2018 to December 12, 2018 because the 18 court was not conducting hearings on December 5, 2018 to observe the National Day of 19 Mourning proclaimed by President Trump in honor of former President George H.W. Bush.
20 At the hearing on December 12, 2018, the court set the contested matter of the Fee 21 Application for a one-day trial on January 30, 2019.

22 On January 30, 2019, the court conducted a trial on the contested matter of the Fee 23 Application as then amended. Appearances at trial were made by LODAT, by its principal, 24 David A. Tilem, and Debtor for himself, and Mr. Tilem and Debtor testified. Because 25 Debtor filed an amended declaration on the day before trial, ECF 124 and 125, the court
26 set a briefing schedule whereby LODAT was given the opportunity until February 25, 2019 27 to respond to the amended declaration, and Debtor was given until March 11, 2019, to 28

1 reply to the response of LODAT. On February 25, 2019, LODAT filed its reply to Debtor's 2 amended declaration. ECF 127.

3 On February 26, 2019, the court entered an order assigning the contested matter of 4 the Fee Application and a related adversary proceeding to mediation. ECF 128. The 5 parties participated in mediation on March 21, 2019, wherein they reached an agreement 6 in principle resolving all disputes between them, including the Fee Application, and they 7 orally stated the agreement on the record in open court on March 21, 2019, and the court
8 orally indicated that it would approve the agreement. Audio Recording of Hearing, March 9 21, 2019.

10 On April 2, 2019, the court filed and entered an order setting the proposed order 11 submitted by LODAT for hearing on approval of the settlement because the proposed 12 settlement approval order requested approval of LODAT's fees and costs in the amount of 13 $70,000.00, which was greater than the amount of fees and costs requested by LODAT in 14 the Fee Application at the time. ECF 132. In its order, the court requested that LODAT 15 submit a supplemental billing statement that would provide a factual basis for the amount 16 of fees in excess of the amount included in the Fee Application as then filed. Id. In the 17 order, the court indicated that it realized that there was an insufficient factual basis for the 18 court to formally approve the settlement because it had to carry out its independent duty to 19 review professional fees for reasonableness under 11 U.S.C. § 330 and had to review the 20 additional fees that had been requested in the settlement, but not yet reviewed. The court 21 also noted that Debtor indicated that he still wanted approval of the proposed settlement at 22 the case status conference on March 27, 2019. Id. On April 17, 2019, the court conducted 23 a hearing on the order lodged by LODAT attempting to resolve the contested matter of the 24 Fee Application as a result of the settlement, and at this hearing, both LODAT and Debtor 25 appeared and stated that they were no longer willing to agree to the settlement terms 26 reached in mediation.

27 On April 22, 2019, LODAT filed its Supplemental Fee Application, which requested 28 additional fees as well as the fees previously requested in the original and amended fee

1 applications, and noticed the Supplemental Fee Application for hearing on May 28, 2019.
2 ECF 138. The additional fees in the Supplemental Fee Application covered the additional 3 period of February 24, 2019 through April 19, 2019, which included time spent by LODAT 4 for defending the Fee Application. Id.

5 On May 22, 2019, the court filed and entered its Order Requiring the Parties to 6 Lodge Electronic Spreadsheets of Disputed Billing Entries and Continuing Hearing on Fee
7 Application, which required the parties to submit the billing entries on the Fee Application 8 and objections thereto on computer files in Microsoft Excel spreadsheet format in order for 9 the court to review in detail and rule upon the Fee Application. ECF 141. This order 10 further provided that the hearing on the Fee Application as supplemented was continued to 11 August 29, 2019. Id.

12 LODAT submitted a computer file with its billing entries for the Fee Application in 13 Microsoft Excel spreadsheet format by the deadline of June 26, 2019.<sup>2</sup> Debtor did not 14 submit to the court a computer file with his objections to the billing entries on the Fee 15 Application in Microsoft Excel spreadsheet format by the deadline of July 31, 2019. At a 16 hearing in this case, Debtor explained that he did not know how to use Microsoft Excel.

17 On May 23, 2019, Debtor filed a document entitled Complaint to Vacate Order
18 Granting Counsel Motion to Withdraw as Procured Through: (A) Negligent 19 Misrepresentation, (B) Constructive Fraud and (C) Breach of Attorney-Client Relationship; 20 and Motion in Opposition for Application of Payment of Additional Fees. ECF 142.

21 On July 23, 2019, Debtor filed a Motion to Vacate Order granting Counsel 22 Withdrawal of Representation; Motion in Opposition to Application for Payment of 23 Compensation including Request for Additional Supplemental Fees; Monetary Damages; 24 Relief of Loss of Income. ECF 152. Accordingly, Debtor expressly objected on the record

---

25 <sup>2</sup> The court's rulings are based on LODAT's final fee spreadsheet, which was delivered to the court by 26 electronic mail on June 25, 2019. Because LODAT's final fee spreadsheet was not previously placed on the 27 record, the court is having it placed on the record by filing a printed copy with a declaration by a court staff 28 member. Although LODAT's Supplemental Fee Application, ECF 138, includes a table that reflects total fees and expenses for the full case of $89,915.34, all of the court's determinations in this memorandum decision are based upon the spreadsheets delivered to the court on June 25, 2019, which indicate total fees and expenses of $82,488.55.

1 to LODAT's Fee Application in its original, amended, and supplemented forms, setting forth 2 his objections to specific billing entries in the Fee Application as amended and 3 supplemented. See ECF 115 (filed October 11, 2018); ECF 124 (filed January 29, 2019); 4 ECF 142 (filed May 23, 2019); ECF 152 (filed July 23, 2019). Apparently, the July 23, 5 2019, pleading filed by Debtor, ECF 152, was in response to the court's May 22, 2019 6 order that the parties submit to the court their billing entries and their objections therein on 7 a computer file in Microsoft Excel spreadsheet format. In light of Debtor's self-represented 8 status and lack of facility with Microsoft Excel, the court considers his objections to 9 LODAT's billing entries and sets forth its rulings on the billing entries and objections thereto 10 on the Microsoft Excel spreadsheet submitted by LODAT. It appears to the court that 11 Debtor met the deadline of July 31, 2019 as to stating his objections to specific billing 12 entries of LODAT the best that he could.

13 At the hearing on the Fee Application on August 28, 2019, LODAT appeared, and 14 an attorney representing the family of Debtor appeared, stating that Debtor had passed 15 away on August 15, 2019 and requesting a 60-day continuance of the hearing pending the 16 appointment of a representative of Debtor's probate estate who would respond to the Fee 17 Application and determine whether to proceed with the bankruptcy case in lieu of Debtor.
18 Over the objection of LODAT, the court on its own motion continued the hearing to October 19 23, 2019 at the request of the family of Debtor based on the representation that time was 20 needed for the appointment of a probate estate representative to respond to the Fee 21 Application and to determine whether to proceed with the bankruptcy case. On October 9, 22 2019, counsel for the Proposed Estate of Decedent Debtor Peter Kudrave filed a formal 23 suggestion of the death of Debtor upon the record, stating that Debtor passed away on 24 August 15, 2019. ECF 156 (attaching Death Certificate of Peter G. Kudrave). However, 25 since no further written response from a representative of Debtor's proposed probate 26 estate in lieu of Debtor was filed on the Fee Application, the court filed and entered an 27 order on October 21, 2019, taking the Fee Application and objections thereto under 28 submission.

1 Having considered the Fee Application (which includes the Amended and 2 Supplemental Fee Applications), the objections thereto, the other pleadings and papers 3 filed by the parties, the witness testimony, the exhibits received at trial, and the record 4 before the court, the court hereby makes the following findings of fact and conclusions of 5 law pursuant to Rule 52 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, made applicable here by 6 Rules 7052 and 9014(c) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure, in support of its 7 ruling to approve in part and disapprove in part the Fee Application.

8 I. BACKGROUND

9 A. Debtor's Petition

10 On June 21, 2017, Debtor commenced this bankruptcy case by filing a voluntary 11 petition for relief under Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code, 11 U.S.C., Case No. 2:17-bk-
12 17577-RK, ECF 1. Debtor was assisted by LODAT as proposed general bankruptcy 13 counsel in preparing his bankruptcy petition and schedules.

14 B. Major Events in Debtor's Bankruptcy Case

15 On July 21, 2017, Debtor's case status report, prepared by LODAT, was filed in 16 preparation for the initial status conference in the case, scheduled for August 9, 2017.
17 ECF 24. In the initial status report, Debtor stated that he was a licensed architect for just 18 under 50 years and that at this stage of his career, his business was almost exclusively 19 providing expert witness services in malpractice, construction defect and similar cases. Id.
20 at 1. The status report stated that "the estate [had] only one significant asset – Debtor's 21 residence which he designed and built for his family in the 1970s" and that "[t]he residence
22 is occupied by Debtor and his severely debilitated wife." Id. The status report explained 23 what precipitated the bankruptcy case: "Debtor's business experienced a bad year in 2016.
24 He fell behind in mortgage payments and a foreclosure sale was imminent." Id. at 2. In 25 explaining his goals for the bankruptcy case, Debtor stated: "Debtor hopes to clean up title 26 to his home, cure the default on his mortgage and pay the junior liens, most likely through 27 a 5 year Chapter 13 style plan." Id. The status report also identified the anticipated 28 problems in the case: "Debtor anticipates a relief from stay motion. Debtor is prepared to 1 negotiate an adequate protection stipulation and plan treatment as soon as lender's

2 counsel is identified." Id. In stating the means of resolution of the case, Debtor stated:
3 "The problems will be resolved either through negotiation or a Chapter 13 style cure plan."
4 Id.

5 On June 29, 2017, Debtor filed a motion to employ LODAT as general bankruptcy 6 counsel. ECF 13. On July 12, 2017, Debtor filed a motion to employ Real Works, Inc. as 7 appraiser to appraise Debtor's real property, the residence (the "Real Property"). ECF 21.
8 The court granted Debtor's motion to employ LODAT by order entered July 25, 2017, ECF 9 25, and the motion to employ Real Works, Inc. by order entered August 8, 2017, ECF 32.
10 The court set a deadline of October 16, 2017, for creditors to file proofs of claim against 11 Debtor's estate. ECF 34.

12 On October 2, 2017, Debtor filed a Case Status Conference Report indicating, 13 among others, that the Real Property was in serious need of a new roof. ECF 40 at 2. On 14 October 23, 2017, Debtor filed a Motion for Order Authorizing Use of Property of the Estate
15 Not in the Ordinary Course of Business, proposing to replace the roof on the Real Property 16 pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 363(b). ECF 41. The court granted this motion by order entered 17 on December 4, 2017. ECF 51.

18 Debtor also filed a Motion to Disallow the Claim of Olmax Corp. on November 11, 19 2017. ECF 46. No opposition to the Motion to Disallow the Claim of Olmax Corp. was 20 filed, and the court granted Debtor's motion by order entered December 28, 2017. ECF 21 55.

22 On January 16, 2018, Debtor filed a motion to employ Zivetz, Schwartz & Saltsman 23 as accountant for assistance with tax matters. ECF 58. The court granted Debtor's motion 24 to employ Zivetz, Schwartz & Saltsman by order entered February 9, 2018. ECF 66.

25 On January 31, 2018, Debtor filed: (i) a Notice of Motion and Motion for Order 26 Approving Disclosure Statement, ECF 62, (ii) a Form F2081-1.DISCLSR.STMT, Individual 27 Debtor's Disclosure Statement in Support of Plan Reorganization ("Form Disclosure 28 Statement"), ECF 60, and (iii) a Form F 2081-1.PLAN, Individual Debtor's Plan of

1 Reorganization ("Form Plan"), ECF 61. The Forms F 2081-1.DISCLSR.STMT and F 2081-2 1.PLAN are official forms approved by the court, which contain boilerplate language for 3 terms of a Chapter 11 reorganization plan and a disclosure statement. The Form
4 Disclosure Statement and Form Plan include "fill in the blank" provisions for plan duration
5 and payments, making it easier and more cost-efficient for individual Chapter 11 debtors 6 and their counsel to file a Chapter 11 reorganization plan and disclosure statement without 7 having to draft plan and disclosure statement language from scratch. The Form Disclosure
8 Statement and Form Plan can be customized by drafting attachments. Here, LODAT
9 drafted attachments for Debtor's plan and disclosure statement. The plan and disclosure 10 statement attachments are major areas of dispute, however, between the parties.

11 Debtor's disclosure statement and plan were straightforward exercises for an 12 experienced bankruptcy practitioner. With respect to plan treatment of the first lien lender 13 on Debtor's Real Property, Wells Fargo Bank N.A., the plan proposed to reamortize the 14 existing loan over 40 years and to pay the secured claim of $1.4 million at 4% interest per 15 annum, $6,426 per month, and if Debtor and the bank were unable to agree on these 16 terms, the plan would have to be significantly modified. ECF 60 and 61. The 17 memorandum of points and authorities in support of the Motion for Order Approving 18 Disclosure Statement consisted of one and one-half pages of text as follows in its entirety:

19 Peter G. Kudrave is the Debtor ("Debtor") in the above-captioned case. This 20 case was commenced by filing a voluntary chapter 11 petition on June 21, 2017.
No trustee has been appointed and Debtors are still Debtors-in-Possession.

21 Bankruptcy Code Section 1125 requires Chapter 11 debtors to prepare and 22 provide a Disclosure Statement to those entitled to vote on any proposed Chapter 23 11 plan. The Disclosure Statement must have sufficient information to enable creditors to cast an informed vote on the proposed plan.

24 The instant case is straightforward and not much disclosure is required for comprehension of the plan. Debtor is an individual who resides in the Central 25 District of California. The Debtor filed this bankruptcy in order to prevent foreclosure 26 on his residence. The Debtor will fund his reorganization using cash from of Social Security and income as a self-employed architectural consultant and expert witness.

27 Debtor maintains that his Disclosure Statement provides adequate evidence 28 of funds sufficient to pay Debtor's creditors per the proposed treatment in the Plan and Disclosure Statement, described [in] the liquidation analysis to show that creditors are being paid at least what they would receive if the Debtor liquidated his assets.

Based on the foregoing, Debtor prays that:

1. The Court find the Disclosure Statement provides adequate information regarding the Debtor, his financial affairs, and the proposed Plan of Reorganization.
2. The Court approve the Disclosure Statement and schedule dates to advance the process of confirming Debtor's proposed Plan of Reorganization.

Notice of Motion and Motion for Order Approving Disclosure Statement, ECF 62 at 3-4 (emphasis added).

As previously noted, the disclosure statement was prepared on the official court Form Disclosure Statement.<sup>3</sup> The attachments to the disclosure statement included three "inserts" which were special disclosure statement provisions: Insert #1 consisted of instructions for voting on the plan; Insert #2 consisted of a schedule of monthly household income from January 2013 through December 2017 based on figures provided by Debtor, including bank deposits and social security income; and Insert #3 contained additional plan provisions regarding claims objections and attorney fees, which provided that the Debtor reserved the right to object to certain claims<sup>4</sup> and that attorney fees would be due and payable the later of 10 days after the plan effective date or 14 days after entry of the court's order approving the fees. Id. at 10.

The attachments to the disclosure statement also included: Exhibit A, a Form 3015-1.20.DEC.INCOME.EXPENSE, Declaration of Current/Postpetition Income and Expenses, showing business income, social security income, and updated monthly expenses; Exhibit

<sup>3</sup> The blanks in the Form Disclosure Statement were completed to state that general unsecured creditors would be paid 100% of their allowed claims without interest in 47 months, that $39,200 in cash would be available on the plan effective date, that monthly disposable income of $1,042.00, based on monthly income of $18,418.00 and monthly expenses of $17,317.00 as of January 31, 2018, would be available to make plan payments over the 4 year term of the plan, that plan risk factors included Debtor's health, the possibility of another "bad year," inability to reach agreement with Debtor's home lender and "bad estimation" of Debtor's tax obligations for 2018 and thereafter. Debtor's Disclosure Statement, ECF 60 at 2-5. The liquidation analysis in the disclosure statement indicated that general unsecured creditors would receive a 100% of their claims in a liquidation of Debtor and the feasibility analysis showed cash on hand of $14,127.71 and projected additional accumulated cash of $25,072.29 as of the effective date. Id. at 5-6.

<sup>4</sup> Insert #3 provided that Debtor was not reserving the right to object to the claims filed or held by Gregory Creighton (scheduled), Robert Olman (filed on October 13, 2017), Nordstrom (scheduled) and Wells Fargo Bank (filed on August 16, 2017). Id. at 10.

1 B, Bankruptcy Schedules A/B, ECF 19; Exhibit C, Claims Schedule, listing the claims
2 organized by class and whether they were disputed; Exhibit D, a plan ballot; Exhibit E, 3 Schedule of Leases and Executory Contracts, consisting of a statement that there are 4 none; and Exhibit F, Debtor's Declaration regarding his personal and financial 5 circumstances, including being a self-employed consultant and expert in legal matters 6 which require architectural expertise and having to care for his wife, which necessarily 7 reduced his income.

8 Debtor's plan was prepared on the official court Form Plan.<sup>5</sup> ECF 61. The 9 attachments to the plan included five "inserts" which are special plan provisions consisting 10 of two pages of text which are quoted verbatim as follows:

11 "INSERT #1 - § 507(a)(2) - Article I, Section A

12 Debtor anticipates receiving sufficient earned income both prior to plan confirmation 13 and immediately thereafter to pay anticipated legal fees. Sources of that income have 14 already been identified and consist of reasonably current (less than 90 day) receivables.
15 Funds will be transmitted, upon receipt, to Debtor's counsel and held in counsel's IOLTA 16 account pending Court approval of compensation. Amounts not needed to pay 17 professional compensation will be returned to Debtor

18 INSERT #2 - § 507(a)(8) – Article I, Section C

19 Debtor has unpaid federal and State income and self-employment taxes due for the 20 years 2015 and 2016. The IRS and CA Franchise Tax Board have filed claims for 21 $84,509.03 and $11,079.89 respectively. Debtor has only just prepared returns for these 22 years. The returns were filed 1/29/18. Based on those returns, Debtor believes that the 23 total amount due is approximately $9,000 to the IRS (mostly self-employment taxes) and 24 nothing to the State of California. Debtor reserves the right to object to the claims of the 25 IRS and CA Franchise Tax Board. Whatever taxes are due, together with interest at the 26 rate of 4.67%, will be paid in monthly installments such that they will be paid in full within 27 60 months of the Petition date. They will be paid from ordinary income. Based on the 28 newly filed returns, Debtor believes that the monthly payment will be $210/month.

---

23 <sup>5</sup> The blanks in the form plan were completed to state that professional fees would be paid under a 24 plan attachment, Insert #1, priority tax claims would be paid in full over time with 4.670% interest in monthly 25 payments under a plan attachment, Insert #2, Class 2( c) claim of Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., with a first lien on 26 Debtor's real property with payment arrearages of $115,473.00 would be paid monthly payments of $6,426 to 27 pay its secured claim of $1,400,000 with 4% interest over 40 years, Class 2(d) claim of Robert Oltman with a 28 second lien on Debtor's real property would be paid monthly payments of $6,426 to pay its secured claim of $8,112 with 3% interest over 47 months, Class 2(e) claim of Gregory Creighton will be paid under Insert #4 in the plan attachment, Class 6(b) claims of general unsecured creditors will be paid 100% of their claims without interest in monthly payments over 47 months under Insert #5 in the plan attachment, and that Debtor would have the authority to settle claims of $3,000 or less without court approval. Id. at 1-6. The means of implementation for the plan would be $39,200 in cash in hand as of the plan confirmation hearing, plus additional cash from projected disposable income of $1,042 per month over 47 months. Id. at 7.

1 In addition, Debtor has unpaid federal and State income and self-employment taxes 2 due for 2017. Debtor projects the amount due will be $8,054. The taxes are to be paid on or before April 15, 2018 using Debtor's ordinary income and funds on hand as of the Effective Date.

3 In addition, Debtor's budget reserves for projected and anticipated federal and State 4 2018 income and self-employment taxes of $1,100/month. These taxes will be due and payable on April 15, 2019 but are accrued throughout the year.

5 INSERT #3 – Article II, Class 2(c)

6 Debtor is currently in negotiations with lender and anticipates reaching agreement to 7 include past due amounts into the principal balance of the loan. The total is unlikely to exceed $1,400,000. The amount due will then be reamortized over a 40 year repayment 8 schedule at 4% interest. The payment amount shown in the Plan of $6,426/month represents $1,400,000 at 4% amortized over 40 years plus tax and insurance payments as 9 reflected on lender's 12/18/2017 loan statement. In the event Debtor is unable to reach agreement with lender, the Plan will need to be significantly modified.

10 INSERT #4 – Article II, Class 2(e)

11 Debtor acknowledges a claim of $24,000 owed to Gregory Creighton as successor 12 in interest to decedent Helen E. Creighton. Debtor further acknowledges that the claim is secured by a deed of trust on Debtor's residence. Creditor did not file a Proof of Claim, 13 Debtor cannot locate the original loan documents and Debtor does not recall all of the terms of the loan – specifically the interest rate. Accordingly, Debtor proposes to repay this 14 claim without interest in full over a period of 47 months. Monthly payments will be $511/month.

15 Secured claim of: Gregory Creighton

II. JURISDICTION

The court has jurisdiction over this contested matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1334(b). Venue is proper pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1409(a). This is a contested matter within the meaning of Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9014. This contested matter is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157(b)(2)(A), (b)(2)(B), and (b)(2)(O).

III. DISCUSSION

A. Standing

Under 11 U.S.C. § 1109(b), “[a] party in interest, including the debtor, the trustee, a creditors’ committee, an equity security holders’ committee, a creditor, an equity security holder, or any indenture trustee, may raise and may appear and be heard on any issue in a case under this chapter.” Debtor has standing to object to the Fee Application.

Under 11 U.S.C. § 330, the court also has an independent duty to review the applications of estate professionals such as LODAT, as former general bankruptcy counsel for Debtor in Possession, for reasonableness. “The bankruptcy court has a duty to review fee applications notwithstanding the absence of objections by the trustee, debtor, or creditors.” In re Auto Parts Club, Inc., 211 B.R. 29, 33 (9th Cir. BAP 1997) (citing In re Busy Beaver Building Centers, Inc., 19 F.3d 833, 841 (3d Cir. 1994)).

B. Legal Standard

i. 11 U.S.C. § 330

Under 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1), a bankruptcy court is authorized to award “reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered by . . . an attorney” and any paraprofessional person employed by an attorney. The court also has the power to award a reduced fee to a professional requesting compensation under Section 330. 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(2).

In determining fees allowed to a professional of a bankruptcy estate, the court must examine “all relevant factors, including: (A) the time spent on [the] services; (B) the rates charged for [the] services; (C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of [the

1 case]; (D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time
2 commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task
3 addressed; (E) with respect to a professional person, whether the person is board certified 4 or otherwise has demonstrated skill and experience in the bankruptcy field; and 5 (F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation 6 charged by comparably skilled practitioners in [nonbankruptcy cases].” 11 U.S.C.
7 § 330(a)(3). The court also must not allow compensation for (i) unnecessary duplication of 8 services, or (ii) services that were not:

9 (I) Reasonably likely to benefit the debtor’s estate, or 10 (II) Necessary to the administration of the case.

11 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(4)(A)(ii).

12 ii. The Lodestar Method

13 Courts customarily apply a formula known as the ‘lodestar’ method to complement 14 these statutory factors, multiplying a reasonable number of hours expended by a 15 reasonable hourly rate to determine allowable compensation. Unsecured Creditors’
16 Committee v. Puget Sound Plywood, Inc., 924 F.2d 955, 960 (9th Cir. 1991); In re Manoa
17 Finance Co., Inc., 853 F.2d 687, 691 (9th Cir. 1988). In Manoa Finance Company, the 18 Ninth Circuit held that a compensation award based on the lodestar method is 19 “presumptively a reasonable fee.” 853 F.2d at 691. Although courts customarily begin a 20 fee determination by applying the lodestar method—the “primary” fee calculation formula
21 adopted by the Ninth Circuit—the lodestar is not exclusively applied, given the “uniqueness 22 of bankruptcy proceedings.” Unsecured Creditors’ Committee v. Puget Sound Plywood, 23 Inc., 924 F.2d at 960. Further, a court may downwardly adjust a law firm’s fees with 24 reference to the work actually and reasonably performed, the value of that work to the 25 estate, the performance of the firm’s attorneys, the reasonable hourly rates for such work, 26 and the prevailing community rates, among other factors. In re Morry Waksberg M.D., Inc., 27 692 Fed. Appx. 840, 842 (9th Cir. June 6, 2017) (quoting In re Manoa Finance Co., Inc., 28 853 F.2d at 691).

1 When determining the amount of reasonable fees, the court's "examination . . .
2 should include the following questions: First, were the services authorized? Second, were 3 the services necessary or beneficial to the administration of the estate at the time they 4 were rendered? Third, are the services adequately documented? Fourth, are the fees 5 requested reasonable, taking into consideration the factors set forth in § 330(a)(3)?
6 Finally, . . . the court must [also consider] whether the professional exercised reasonable 7 billing judgment." In re Mednet, 251 B.R. 103, 108 (9th Cir. BAP 2000) (citation omitted).

8 Regarding the requirement that bankruptcy estate professionals exercise billing 9 judgment, the Ninth Circuit has stated that employment authorization does "not give [the 10 professional] free reign to run up a tab without considering the maximum probable 11 recovery." Unsecured Creditors' Committee v. Puget Sound Plywood, Inc., 924 F.2d at 12 958. Before undertaking work on a bankruptcy matter, a professional is obligated to 13 consider:

14 (a) Is the burden of the probable cost of legal services disproportionately large in 15 relation to the size of the estate and maximum probable recovery?

16 (b) To what extent will the estate suffer if the services are not rendered?

17 (c) To what extent may the estate benefit if the services are rendered and what is the likelihood of the disputed issues being resolved successfully?

18 Id. at 959-960 (citation omitted). Moreover, "[w]hen a cost benefit analysis indicates that 19 the only parties who will likely benefit from [a service] are the trustee and his 20 professionals,' the service is unwarranted and a court does not abuse its discretion in 21 denying fees for those services." In re Mednet, 251 B.R. at 108-109 (quoting In re 22 Riverside-Linden Investment Co., 925 F.2d 320, 321 (9th Cir. 1991)).

23 A bankruptcy court has broad discretion to determine the number of hours 24 reasonably expended by a professional. Wechsler v. Macke International Trade, Inc. (In re 25 Macke International Trade, Inc.), 370 B.R. 236, 254 (9th Cir. BAP 2007). "[E]ven where 26 evidence supports [that] a particular number of hours [were] worked, the court may give 27 credit for fewer hours if the time claimed is 'excessive, redundant, or otherwise unnecessary.” Id. (quoting Dawson v. Washington Mutual Bank, F.A. (In re Dawson), 390 F.3d 1139, 1152 (9th Cir. 2004)).

While “the applicant must demonstrate only that the services were ‘reasonably likely’ to benefit the estate at the time the services were rendered,” In re Mednet, 251 B.R. at 108, “an attorney fee application in bankruptcy will be denied to the extent that the services rendered were for the benefit of the debtor and did not benefit the estate.” In re Crown Oil, Inc., 257 B.R. 531, 540 (Bankr. D. Mont. 2000) (quoting Keate v. Miller (In re Kohl), 95 F.3d 713 (8th Cir. 1996)) (citations and internal quotation marks omitted). “This rule is based on the legislative history of the Bankruptcy Code section 330(a) and the unfairness of allowing the debtor to deplete the estate by pursuing its interests to the detriment of creditors.” Id. (citations and internal quotation marks omitted). “The same unfairness occurs when a debtor’s professionals seek to deplete the estate . . . to the detriment of the estate and creditors.” In re Crown Oil, Inc., 257 B.R. at 540.

Courts do not conclude that “only successful actions may be compensated under § 330. To the contrary, so long as there was a reasonable chance of success which outweighed the cost in pursuing the action, the fees relating thereto are compensable. Moreover, professionals must often perform significant work in making the determination whether a particular course of action could be successful. Such services are also compensable so long as, at the outset, it was not clear that success was remote.” In re Crown Oil, Inc., 257 B.R. at 541 (quoting In re Jefsaba, Inc., 172 B.R. 786, 789 (Bankr. E.D. Pa. 1994)) (internal quotation marks omitted). “On the other hand, whether a reorganization is successful is a factor to be considered in determining whether a debtor’s counsel’s services provide a benefit to the estate.” In re Crown Oil, Inc., 257 B.R. at 541 (citing In re MFlex Corp., 172 B.R. 854, 857 (Bankr. W.D. Tex. 1994) and In re Lederman Enterprises, Inc., 143 B.R. 772, 775 (D. Colo. 1992), affirmed, 997 F.2d 1321 (10th Cir. 1993)).

The court has reviewed the Fee Application of LODAT, including all billing entries, pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330 and the lodestar method. The court identified specific tasks

1 performed by LODAT and its professionals which were objected to by Debtor or otherwise 2 potentially problematic based on the court's independent duty to review the 3 reasonableness of the time billed and tasks performed. As discussed herein, the court 4 determines that not all the of the requested fees are reasonable, and the court has reduced 5 the award by disallowing the fees that are not reasonable. The court has determined that 6 some of Debtor's objections to the requested fees have merit, but other objections lacked 7 merit. The court has also determined that other requested fees are not reasonable 8 pursuant to its independent duty to review the fees.

9 C. Application

10 On the original Fee Application, LODAT requested $57,040.00 in fees, $3,087.42 in 11 expenses, and a total balance due of $46,577.72 based on payments previously made.
12 ECF 112. LODAT's final Fee Application, including the Supplemental Application, included 13 fees and costs for the entire case of $89,915.23, with an unfunded balance due of 14 $67,233.34. ECF 138 at 7-8.

15 Pursuant to the court's order entered on May 22, 2019, ECF 141, LODAT provided 16 the court with an electronic copy of LODAT's final billing entries in Microsoft Excel
17 spreadsheet format, which showed the fees requested in the Fee Application. The court 18 had ordered the parties to submit the billing entries and objections in spreadsheet form in 19 order for the court to make rulings on each individual billing entry and each objection. The 20 court has used the Microsoft Excel spreadsheet file containing LODAT's billing entries to 21 make its rulings thereon. The court notes that the total amount of fees on the spreadsheet 22 filed as ordered by the court was $82,488.55, which is less than the total fees of 23 $89,915.34 on the last amended fee application filed on April 22, 2019, ECF 138. The 24 difference in fees is primarily attributable to the fee categories of Final Fee Application 25 Charges ($24,685.45 vs. $21,621.13) and Fee Application Mediation ($5,552.47 vs. $0.00).
26 The court bases its rulings on the billing entries on the fee spreadsheet since the court 27
28

1 specifically ordered LODAT to submit the electronic spreadsheet in order for the court to 2 make its rulings.<sup>8</sup> See also supra at 3 n.2.

3 i. Debtor's Objections

4 On October 11, 2018, Debtor filed a Declaration in Opposition of Final Application 5 for Professional Compensation Including Counsel's Business Practices and Standards of 6 Care. ECF 115. Specifically, Debtor objected to six categories of fees: Motion for 7 Withdrawal (Firm Employment and Compensation); Preparation of a Plan Spreadsheet
8 (Planned Disclosure Statement); Monthly Operating Disbursement Reports (U.S. Trustee 9 Matters); Wells Fargo Mortgage Modification (Planned Disclosure Statement); Plan and 10 Disclosure Charges (Firm Employment and Compensation); Firm Employment & 11 Compensation (Firm Employment and Compensation). Id. at 6. Debtor also objected to 12 certain individual billing entries. Id. at 8 (e.g., "10/24/17 – Left Message - $50.00 . . .").

13 On January 29, 2019, Debtor filed an Amended Declaration in opposition to the Fee 14 Application. ECF 124. Debtor's declaration made similar arguments addressing the 15 reasonableness of LODAT's fees, including that work on the plan spreadsheet, loan 16 modification with Wells Fargo Bank, and monthly reports was not reasonably billed. ECF 17 124. Debtor also disputed that LODAT's post-withdrawal fees were compensable. Id. at 18 32. On July 23, 2019, Debtor filed a final Motion in Opposition to the Fee Application, ECF
19 152, which restated Debtor's general objections to the Fee Application and included 20 objections to specific billing entries in the spreadsheet LODAT provided the court and 21 parties as a result of the court's May 22, 2019 order, ECF 141 (requiring electronic 22 spreadsheets of disputed billing entries).

23 ii. LODAT's Defense of the Fee Application

24 On October 17, 2018, LODAT filed its Reply to Debtor's initial Declaration and 25 Opposition Regarding Final Fee Application (the "Reply"). ECF 116. The Reply argued 26 that Debtor's unreasonable expectations, changing goals, and failure to assist counsel had

27 <sup>8</sup> In any event, the additional fees for Final Fee Application Charges and Fee Application Mediation 28 would not have been allowed because they were for services rendered in defense of the Fee Application as discussed herein.

1 caused the disputed billing issues, including the amount of work on the plan spreadsheet
2 and loan modification. Id. at 2-3.

3 On February 25, 2019, in response to the amended declaration filed by Debtor on 4 the eve of trial, LODAT filed its Supplemental Reply and Objections (the “Supplemental 5 Reply”). ECF 127. The Supplemental Reply addressed Debtor’s declarations and the 6 disputed billing entries, including the work on the plan spreadsheet. Id. at 5. LODAT 7 argued that communications that Debtor complained of, such as calls and e-mails, were 8 made necessary by Debtor’s conduct. Id. at 5-7. Additionally, LODAT argued that fees 9 related to monthly reports, its withdrawal, and the instant fee dispute were also 10 compensable. Id.

11 iii. The Court’s Determinations

12 The court’s rulings on all individual billing entries, including those specifically 13 objected to by Debtor, are set forth in Exhibit A attached to this memorandum decision (the 14 “Rulings Spreadsheet”).<sup>9</sup> The court addresses the parties’ broader contentions below.

15 The Fee Application lists categories for fees for the various services that were 16 rendered by LODAT in this case, and it is useful to consider the fee categories first.<sup>10</sup> Of 17 note, the fee category of “B02: Final Fee Application Charges” primarily represents fees for 18 services performed by LODAT in defense of its fee application. As discussed herein, these 19 fees are impermissible under the Supreme Court’s decision in Baker Botts. The court has 20 disallowed most, if not all, of these fees. The court also disallowed fees for services

21 _____
22 <sup>9</sup> Schedule A also includes a court-generated spreadsheet based on the data provided by LODAT, 23 LODAT Billing Category Totals, which shows the disallowed and allowed fees on a per-category basis instead of by individual billing entry.

24 <sup>10</sup> In its supplemental and final fee application, ECF 138, LODAT categorized its fees as follows:
25 - A: Services Not in Any Other Category (or Ch. 11 General)
26 - B: Firm Employment and Compensation
27 - B01: Motion to Withdraw
28 - B02: Final Fee Application Charges
- B03: Fee Application Mediation
- C: U.S. Trustee Matters
- F: Claims
- G: Employment and Compensation of other Professionals
- M: Use, Sale or Lease of Estate Assets
- T: Plan and Disclosure Statement Services

1 rendered by LODAT in support of its motion to withdraw from the case, “B01: Motion to 2 Withdraw,” because such services were not for the benefit of the estate, but for itself.

3       Aside the fees of $24,831.96 as reflected in the billing spreadsheet for defending the 4 fee application or for moving to withdraw, this leaves roughly $57,656.59 in fees requested
5 by LODAT with respect to representation of Debtor. The court has reviewed all of the fees
6 for reasonableness pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 330 and has made rulings on all of Debtor’s 7 objections to the extent that the court could discern the objections. The court was not able 8 to discern all of Debtor’s objections because some objections were misidentified as to the 9 date that the objection was rendered, and thus, the court was unable to rule on such 10 objections. To the extent that the court could, it made a specific ruling on the objection
11 made by Debtor as to the specific billing entry, whether to sustain or overrule the objection 12 in part or in whole. With respect to some of the fee categories, few, if any, of the fees were 13 disallowed because Debtor did not interpose objections and the court did not otherwise find 14 that the fees were unreasonable. See Rulings Spreadsheet, Exhibit A at “A: Services Not 15 in Any Other Category (Ch. 11 General),” “B: Firm Employment and Compensation,” “C:
16 U.S. Trustee Matters,” “F: Claims,” “G: Employment and Compensation of other 17 Professionals,” “M: Use, Sale or Lease of Estate Assets.”

18       With respect to other fee categories, some of the fees were disallowed because the 19 court found that Debtor’s objections had merit, or the court determined that the fees were 20 otherwise not reasonable. The major fee category that drew Debtor’s objections was with 21 respect to disclosure statement and plan confirmation, “T: Plan and Disclosure Statement 22 Services,” and the court sustained many but not all of Debtor’s objections after determining 23 that the objections had merit, and the court did not have information to show that the fees 24 were otherwise reasonable. With respect to the disclosure statement and plan 25 confirmation category, the court allowed a slight majority of the fees claimed as reasonable 26 and disallowed a just less than half of the fees requested.

27       However, the court now generally discusses the fee rulings in the context of the 28 case as a whole. This bankruptcy case was straightforward and did not present complex

1 issues. The primary issue in this case involved the plan treatment of Debtor's home 2 lender, Wells Fargo Bank, which held the first lien on the residence, which issue was 3 eventually consensually resolved with minimal litigation effort. The court does not wish to 4 detract from the efforts of LODAT, which successfully negotiated a loan modification and 5 plan treatment of the secured claim of Debtor's senior home lender. The litigation in the 6 case consisted of mainly routine case administrative matters (i.e., case status conferences, 7 hearings on approval of disclosure statement and plan confirmation) and uncontested 8 litigation proceedings (i.e., only one claim objection and the sole dispute regarding 9 approval of the disclosure statement with Wells Fargo Bank was promptly and 10 consensually resolved). However, because the court considers the lodestar analysis in 11 reviewing the fees requested here, the court determines that the amount of time spent on 12 the case by LODAT was not entirely reasonable, and thus, the fees are excessive to some 13 degree.

14       The case was simple and straightforward because the major issue was the dispute 15 with the senior home lender, which was consensually resolved, and there was no dispute 16 with other creditors as their claims were consensually resolved through the plan. There 17 was only one objection to a claim, which was unopposed. Debtor's income consisted of 18 two sources, social security and income from his consulting business, and his expenses 19 were his personal expenses.

20       As was stated in the initial case status report prepared by LODAT for Debtor in this 21 case, the case was going to be resolved through negotiation or a Chapter 13 style cure 22 plan. The confirmed plan in the case was a simple plan based on a loan modification of 23 the senior secured claim and lien on the residence, consensual payment of the other 24 secured claims and priority tax claims and payment of general unsecured claims in full 25 without interest over 47 months. The plan would be funded from two sources of Debtor's 26 net monthly disposable income, that is, Debtor's social security income, and his business 27 consulting income. Thus, the plan in this case bore strong similarities to a 5 year Chapter 28 13 plan. The plan and disclosure statements were on official court "fill in the blank" form

1 documents with some very brief attachments. As LODAT's principal, David Tilem, said at 2 trial, this was a simple, supersized Chapter 13 style case. Audio Recording of Trial, 3 January 30, 2019 at 9:33 a.m.

4 There is no dispute that the case was straightforward and did not require much 5 disclosure to comprehend the plan as Debtor's motion to approve the disclosure statement 6 prepared by LODAT stated. ECF 62 at 3. The question is, why would this simple and 7 straightforward Chapter 13 style individual Chapter 11 bankruptcy case take about 67.30 8 hours of professional, mostly attorney, time resulting in nearly $32,000 in fees to prepare 9 the form "fill in the blanks" plan and disclosure statement documents and to obtain 10 disclosure statement approval and plan confirmation, which were minimally contested.<sup>11</sup> 11 As set forth in the attached Rulings Spreadsheet, the court has reviewed the fees for 12 reasonableness and has determined that the requested amount of approximately $32,000 13 is excessive and unreasonable, but an amount of approximately $16,000 of these 14 requested fees is reasonable under a lodestar method analysis as set forth in the court's 15 Rulings Spreadsheet.

16 Much of the focus of Debtor's objections and the court's scrutiny is on the time billed 17 for preparing plan and disclosure statement attachments and communications between 18 Debtor and his counsel, LODAT. The plan and disclosure statement attachments are 19 short, simple documents dealing with simple issues, and are so abbreviated that the court 20 could quote them verbatim in this decision without making the decision excessively long.
21 The court cannot identify why it would have taken counsel so long to prepare these 22 attachments because they dealt with simple, discrete issues, such as scheduling of claims 23 and computation of Debtor's household income, which could have been handled by a 24 paralegal rather than an attorney. The time required to complete such attachments is 25 unreasonable, and LODAT has not shown why the time billed for preparing such 26 attachments is reasonable, given the simplicity of the content of these attachments.

27
28 <sup>11</sup> Only Wells Fargo Bank filed an opposition to the Debtor's first plan, which opposition was consensually resolved by the Stipulation. ECF 74.

1 Under the lodestar method, the court determines that LODAT's billing rates were 2 reasonable and appropriate based on the services rendered and the fees typically charged 3 in Chapter 11 cases in this district. Although LODAT's principal, David Tilem, testified that 4 his usual billing rate is $600.00 per hour, his billing rate of $500.00 per hour in light of his 5 experience as a bankruptcy practitioner is reasonable. The rates of LODAT's other 6 professionals, the former associate attorney at $300.00 per hour, and the paralegals at 7 $100.00 per hour and $150.00 per hour were also reasonable.

8 The issue raised by Debtor in his objections was the use of higher cost 9 professionals on tasks which should have been performed by lower cost professionals. In 10 the early stage of the case, June 2017 to August 2017, this was not an issue because work 11 was appropriately delegated to lower cost professionals, and Debtor had no specific 12 objections to services during this time. However, after the associate attorney left LODAT, 13 Mr. Tilem was left as the only attorney at the firm—with his $500.00 per hour billing rate.
14 As discussed below and in the court's Rulings Spreadsheet, the issue is not so much Mr.
15 Tilem's rate per se, but his billing of services for clerical tasks that he performed, such as 16 preparing arithmetic computations of income and expenses for plan documents, which did 17 not require an attorney to perform and should not have been billed at attorney rates. See

26 The court addresses the reasonableness of the time spent on individual tasks
27 pursuant to the lodestar method below and in its individual rulings found in the Rulings 28

1 Spreadsheet.<sup>12</sup> Because the court determined that the fees requested in connection with 2 the motion to withdraw and defense of the fee application are not compensable as a matter 3 of law because the motion to withdraw was for the benefit of LODAT, and not the 4 bankruptcy estate, and services for defense of a fee application do not benefit the 5 bankruptcy estate, the reasonableness of the time spent on those tasks is not material.
6 Accordingly, the court discusses the reasonableness under the lodestar method of the fees
7 billed by LODAT for services relating to the plan and disclosure statement and other issues 8 arising in the case.

9 iv. Fees Requested for Defense of Fee Application

10 The court has reviewed LODAT's fees of $21,621.13 claimed in its fee spreadsheet
11 under the category of "Final Fee Application Charges" and has made rulings on the billing 12 entries as set forth in the attached Rulings Spreadsheet.<sup>13</sup> The court has disallowed nearly 13 all of the fees in this category because they were the result of services in defense of the 14 Fee Application and not services rendered preparing the Fee Application.

15 Courts evaluating fee applications must distinguish between preparing a fee 16 application and defending a fee application. Baker Botts L.L.P. v. ASARCO LLC, 135 S.Ct.
17 2158, 2167, 192 L. Ed. 2d 208 (2015). The Supreme Court stated in Baker Botts that "[a] 18 [11 U.S.C.] §327(a) professional's preparations of a fee application is best understood as a 19 'servic[e] rendered' to the estate administrator under §330(a)(1), whereas a professional's 20 defense of that application is not." The Supreme Court also stated: "Any compensation 21 awarded for the preparation of a fee application shall be based on the level and skill 22 reasonably required to prepare the application," 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(6), while 11 U.S.C.
23 § 330(a)(1) does not permit bankruptcy courts to award fees to bankruptcy estate 24

25 <sup>12</sup> Fees that the court was required to disallow because the fee was either Unnecessary Duplication of 26 Services under 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(4)(A)(i); Services that were Not Reasonably Likely to Benefit the Debtor's Estate under 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(4)(A)(ii)(I); or, Services that were Not Necessary to the Administration of the Case under 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(4)(A)(ii)(II) are set forth in the individual rulings in Schedule A.

27 <sup>13</sup> The court notes that the Fee Application contained a fee category of "Fee Application Mediation," but 28 there were no such entries on LODAT's fee spreadsheet. It appears that this fee category was subsumed in the fee category of "Final Fee Application Charges."

1 professionals for defending their fee applications, Baker Botts L.L.P. v. ASARCO LLC, 135
2 S.Ct. at 2164-2166.

3 In Baker Botts, two law firms employed by the estate to represent the debtor in 4 possession sought compensation under 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1), and the debtor objected to 5 the fee applications. Baker Botts L.L.P. v. ASARCO LLC, 135 S.Ct. at 2163. After 6 extensive discovery and a six-day trial, the bankruptcy court rejected the debtor's 7 objections and awarded the fees, including an additional amount for time spent litigating 8 defense of the fee applications. Id. The Supreme Court ultimately disagreed. The 9 Supreme Court began with the basic point of reference when considering the award of 10 attorneys' fees, which is the "American Rule," whereby each litigant pays its own attorneys' 11 fees, win or lose, unless a statute or contract provides otherwise. Id. at 2164 (collecting 12 cases). "Congress did not expressly depart from the American Rule to permit 13 compensation for fee-defense litigation by professionals hired to assist trustees [or debtors 14 in possession] in bankruptcy proceedings." Id.<sup>14</sup> The text of 11 U.S.C. § 330(a)(1) "cannot 15 displace the American Rule with respect to fee-defense litigation" because "the phrase 16 'reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered' permits courts to award 17 fees to attorneys for work done to assist the administrator of the estate," and "[t]he word 18 'services' ordinarily refers to 'labor performed for another.'" Id. (citing Webster's New 19 International Dictionary 2288 (def. 4) (2d ed. 1934)) (emphasis added). The Supreme 20 Court concluded in Baker Botts that "[b]ecause § 330(a)(1) does not explicitly override the 21 American Rule with respect to fee-defense litigation, it does not permit bankruptcy courts to 22 award compensation for such litigation." Id. at 2169.

23 The Ninth Circuit follows the rule of Baker Botts disallowing fees for the defense of 24 an application of a bankruptcy professional for fees as an administrative expense of the 25 bankruptcy estate pursuant to 11 U.S.C. § 503(b)(1)(A)(i), but allowing fees for the 26
27

28 <sup>14</sup> 11 U.S.C. § 1107(a) gives Chapter 11 debtors in possession generally the same authority as trustees, including the authority to retain 11 U.S.C. § 327(a) professionals.

1 preparation of a fee application. The Bankruptcy Law Firm, P.C. v. Siegel (In re Morry 2 Waksberg M.D., Inc.), 692 Fed. Appx. at 841.

3 At trial, LODAT argued that such fees are for services in “prosecuting” the Fee 4 Application, citing In re Nucorp Energy, Inc., 764 F.2d 655 (9th Cir. 1985). However, the 5 court’s review of the fees indicates that the fees were for services in defense of the Fee 6 Application against objections of Debtor rather than in preparation of the Fee Application.
7 As shown by the court’s rulings on the attached Rulings Spreadsheet, the court has 8 allowed fees for the preparation of the Fee Application while disallowing fees for the 9 defense of the Fee Application, which is consistent with the Baker Botts and Waksberg 10 cases. Although the Supreme Court’s decision in Baker Botts is directly applicable to 11 LODAT’s fees for defending its fee application, LODAT does not discuss the Baker Botts
12 case in its Fee Application or briefing in support of the application. ECF 98, 112, 116, 127
13 and 138. The case of Nucorp Energy does not support LODAT’s argument because that 14 case only holds that fees in preparation of a fee application are compensable which is 15 consistent with Baker Botts and does not support any argument that fees for services in 16 defense of a fee application are compensable. In re Nucorp Energy, Inc., 764 F.2d at 658-17 659. To the extent that LODAT argues that the language of Nucorp Energy that the 18 “preparation and presentation” of attorney fee applications in bankruptcy cases covers fees 19 for defense, that argument is inconsistent with Baker Botts and Waksberg, which must be 20 rejected.

21 v. Fees Requested for Fee Application Mediation

22 Although LODAT requested fees of $5,552.47 on its Supplemental Fee Application 23 under the fee category of “Fee Application Mediation,” LODAT does not claim fees under 24 this fee category in its fee spreadsheet. The court does not allow fees under this category 25 because the billing entries for the fees were not submitted on the fee spreadsheet as 26 ordered by the court. Alternatively, the court would have disallowed the fees in this 27 category because they are for services in defense of the Fee Application since the purpose 28

1 of the mediation was to resolve the dispute between Debtor and LODAT arising from 2 Debtor's objections to the Fee Application.

3 vi. Fees Requested for LODAT's Motion to Withdraw

4 The court has reviewed LODAT's fees of $3,210.83 claimed on its fee spreadsheet 5 under the category of "Motion to Withdraw" and has made rulings on the billing entries as 6 set forth in the attached Rulings Spreadsheet. The court has disallowed most of the fees 7 in this category because they did not benefit the estate as required by 11 U.S.C. § 330, as 8 the motion to withdraw was only for the benefit of LODAT and not for the benefit of the 9 estate.

10 vii. Fees Requested for Plan and Disclosure Statement Services

11 The court has reviewed LODAT's fees of $31,878.24 for 67.3 hours of professional, 12 mostly attorney, services claimed on its fee spreadsheet under the category of "Plan and 13 Disclosure Statement Services" and has made rulings on the billing entries as set forth in 14 the attached Rulings Spreadsheet. The court has disallowed approximately half of the fees 15 in this category and allowed half of the fees as set forth in the specific rulings on the 16 attached Rulings Spreadsheet.

17 The court in this narrative provides further explanation for its rulings on the fees in this 18 category. As previously stated, this was a simple and straightforward Chapter 13 style 19 case, which was resolved without much contested litigation. The approach to the case by 20 Debtor and his bankruptcy counsel, LODAT, was to obtain confirmation of a Chapter 13 21 style plan by resolving the major dispute with the home lender, Wells Fargo Bank, with the 22 senior lien on Debtor's residence. The Real Property was the only substantial asset of the 23 bankruptcy estate, and the plan proposed obtaining a loan modification and consensual 24 plan treatment by payment of the other secured claims, priority tax claims and general
25 unsecured claims in full. Like in a Chapter 13 plan, the plan would be funded by Debtor's 26 net monthly disposable income, which came from two sources, that is, Debtor's social 27 security income, and his business consulting income. Thus, the plan in this case bore 28 strong similarities to a five-year Chapter 13 plan.

1 As discussed above, the plan and disclosure statements were prepared by LODAT on 2 the court's official "fill in the blank" form documents for individual Chapter 11 debtors, which 3 bear similarities to the court's Chapter 13 plan form documents. LODAT added 4 attachments to the court's form plan and disclosure statement documents, which contained 5 additional special plan and disclosure provisions. The court has reviewed the form plan 6 and disclosure statement documents, and these documents themselves should not have 7 taken very much time to fill in the blanks. Moreover, the court has reviewed the plan and 8 disclosure statement attachments containing the special plan and disclosure statement 9 provisions, and these provisions should not have taken very much time to prepare.

10 The motion to approve the disclosure statement was a page and a half of text, which 11 simply asserted that not much disclosure was required for the plan, but that the disclosure 12 was adequate under Section 1125 of the Bankruptcy Code. No other authorities were cited 13 in the motion. In the court's estimation, a reasonable time to complete this document 14 would be one hour of attorney time.

15 The motion to approve the disclosure statement was briefly contested by one 16 creditor, Wells Fargo Bank, and to LODAT's credit, it was able to expeditiously resolve the 17 objection of the bank to the disclosure statement and plan by agreeing to a very favorable
18 loan modification for Debtor, that is, a 40 year reamortization of the existing 30 year loan 19 that provided for recapitalization of the loan arrearages into the reamortized loan at a 20 favorable interest rate of 4.65%, slightly above the 4% proposed in the plan. Contrary to 21 Debtor's assertions that LODAT lacked experience to negotiate a loan modification with the 22 bank, it had considerable experience in negotiating loan modification in bankruptcy case, 23 which showed in the favorable result in resolving the dispute with the bank, and thus, the 24 court has overruled most, if not all, of Debtor's objections to the fees requested by LODAT 25 for resolving the dispute with the bank.

26 As previously noted, the main body of the disclosure statement was the court's form 27 disclosure statement for individual Chapter 11 debtors. LODAT filled in the blanks 28 regarding terms of payment of the various claims under the plan and sources of income of 1 Debtor to fund the payments under the plan. In the court's estimation, a reasonable time to 2 complete this document would be two hours of attorney time.

3 LODAT prepared the three page disclosure statement attachment, which contained 4 special disclosure statement provisions consisting of a one-half page ballot instruction, a 5 chart of Debtor's monthly household income from January 2013 to December 2017, a one-6 quarter page statement on claim objections, and a one paragraph statement on LODAT's
7 attorney fees. In the court's estimation, a reasonable time to complete these special plan 8 provisions would be one hour and one half of attorney time, except as to completion of the 9 monthly household chart which was essentially a computational task gathering Debtor's 10 social security income and bank records and interviewing Debtor regarding these records, 11 which would reasonably involve 5 hours of paralegal time and 2 hours of attorney time.

12 LODAT prepared the five exhibits to the disclosure statement, which included an 13 updated income and expense statement for Debtor's household, modified real and 14 personal property schedules to provide liquidation values, a claims schedule, a plan ballot, 15 a statement regarding assumption of executory contracts and a declaration of Debtor in 16 support of the disclosure statement. The completion of the updated income and expense 17 statement should not have taken much time since it is a "fill in the blank" form, and the 18 workup should have been based on the work for the monthly household income chart for 19 the disclosure statement attachment. The completion of the modified real and personal 20 property schedules should not have taken much time because it was a modification of the 21 real and personal property schedules filed with the bankruptcy petition. The claims 22 schedule should not have taken much time because the information would be taken from 23 the claims scheduled on the petition and listed on the claims register. The plan ballot is a 24 form document which should not have taken long to complete. The statement on 25 assumption of executory contracts and unexpired leases should not have taken much time 26 since the statement was that there were no such contracts or leases to assume. In the 27 court's estimation, a reasonable time to complete these exhibits which were essentially 28 computational tasks relating to Debtor's household income already being done for the

1 disclosure statement attachment and modifying the property schedules and preparing form 2 documents, which would reasonably involve 6 hours of paralegal time and 2 hours of 3 attorney time.

4 As previously noted, the main body of the plan was the court's form plan for individual 5 Chapter 11 debtors, which includes boilerplate language on treatment of unclassified 6 claims, classification and treatment of claims, allowance and disallowance of claim, 7 executory contracts and unexpired leases, means of implementation, discharge and effects 8 of confirmation and general plan provisions. LODAT filled in the blanks regarding 9 treatment of claims and plan duration. In the court's estimation, a reasonable time to 10 complete this document would be one hour of attorney time.

11 LODAT prepared the two page plan attachment, which contained special plan 12 provisions.<sup>15</sup> In the court's estimation, a reasonable time to complete this document would 13 be two hours of attorney time.

14 In addition, the court estimates that reasonable times for: (1) appearance of a 15 disclosure statement hearing, 1.0 hour of attorney time; (2) preparation of an amended 16 plan based on the stipulation with Wells Fargo Bank, 2.0 hours of attorney time; (3) 17 preparation of a confirmation brief, 2.0 hours of attorney time; (4) appearance at a 18 confirmation hearing, 1.0 hour of attorney time; (5) litigation support by paralegal staff, 19 including order preparation, 3.0 hours of paralegal time; (6) client communications re:
20 same: 2 hours of attorney time. In the court's view, a reasonable estimate of time for plan 21 and disclosure statement services in this case would have been 35 hours of professional 22 time, 20 hours of attorney time and 15 hours of paralegal time, yet the actual time billed for 23 such services was over 60 hours. The court's rulings on the reasonableness of the fees 24 requested under the lodestar method of analysis are close to this rough estimate.

25
26 <sup>15</sup> The plan provisions consisted of a one-paragraph addendum discussing Debtor's ability to pay 27 anticipated legal fees, a three-paragraph addendum discussing Debtor's federal and state income and self-28 employment tax liabilities for 2015 through 2018, a one-paragraph addendum discussing his settlement proposal with the senior home lender, a half page addendum discussing the plan treatment of the claim of secured claimant, Gregory Creighton, and a one-paragraph addendum discussing monthly plan payments on claims of Class 6(b) general unsecured creditors with or without allowance of the claim of AMEX.

1 The court has considered the arguments of LODAT as to why the higher fees 2 requested for such services are reasonable as set forth below. In LODAT's reply to 3 Debtor's Declaration and Opposition Regarding Final Fee Application, ECF 116, filed on 4 October 17, 2018, it asserted that additional charges related to the plan spreadsheet
5 resulted from Debtor's failure to provide "good numbers," that is, Debtor would provide one 6 set of numbers, only to replace, update or revise them, which went on for "many weeks" 7 after "warning after warning that the deadline was fast approaching." Id. Based on the 8 trial testimony of LODAT's principal, David Tilem, the amount of time and expense needed 9 to perform the task of preparing the plan and disclosure statement increased because 10 LODAT made extra efforts to reconcile the information on Debtor's bank records with 11 Debtor's representations of his income. According to Mr. Tilem, LODAT was under time 12 constraints to meet the filing deadline of January 31, 2018 to file the plan and disclosure 13 statement and it did not have adequate information from Debtor to reconcile the income 14 data with the numbers needed to put on the plan documents. LODAT also stated that it
15 needed to communicate more with Debtor to obtain the information to compute accurate 16 income figures for the plan documents and to use computer expertise to compute income 17 figures on Microsoft Excel spreadsheets. According to Mr. Tilem, he was the only person 18 in the office, among himself as the sole attorney and three paralegals, who had 19 competence in Microsoft Excel to make the computations, which in his view justified the 20 billing of computational work at his usual billing rate. However, the work of computing the 21 historic income figures is strictly computational and could have been done manually on 22 paper without the need for a computerized spreadsheet. What needs to be done was to 23 obtain the social security income records and the bank records showing deposits from 24 Debtor's household and time to review them and interview Debtor regarding the documents 25 to reconcile them with Debtor's representations. While LODAT asserts that additional 26 professional time was needed in order to meet a disclosure statement filing deadline in 27 January 2018. The court does not see why LODAT considered there were time constraints 28 in obtaining accurate financial data from Debtor's household since the case was filed in

1 June 2017 and the disclosure statement filing deadline was over 6 months later in January 2 2018. There was plenty of time, over 6 months, to obtain and assemble Debtor's financial 3 data and to interview Debtor by LODAT's paralegal staff, who should have performed this 4 task rather than its higher billing attorney.

5 In the initial reply to Debtor's opposition, LODAT also argued that the medical 6 problems of Debtor's wife should not be used to reduce LODAT's fees as the scope of 7 these problems "could not [or] seek to reduce counsel's fees because Debtor faced other 8 pressures." ECF 116 at 2-3. The court has considered this argument and notes that 9 Debtor has not objected to LODAT's fees on this basis, nor has the court disallowed 10 LODAT's fees on this basis as indicated on the court's schedule of rulings.

11 In the initial reply to the opposition, LODAT further argued that "Debtor's failure to 12 'take care of business' resulted in the need for much more hand-holding than would or 13 could normally have been anticipated." ECF 116 at 2. Specifically, LODAT argues: "One 14 particular concern has to do with various deed of trust[s] recorded against the Debtor's 15 residence which could and should have been reconveyed early in the case." Id. The court 16 has considered this argument and has not allowed LODAT's fees relating to the various 17 deeds of trust against Debtor's residence, and it does not appear that Debtor's objections 18 related to fees in connection with this work. The court has sustained Debtor's objections 19 and disallowed fees for excessive time for the tasks performed as indicated on the court's 20 Rulings Spreadsheet, which may or may not relate to LODAT's "hand-holding" issue, 21 because the court has taken into consideration the nature of the tasks performed and the 22 reasonableness of the time to perform such tasks.

23 LODAT also argued that "Debtor's insistence on pursuing unrealistic and changing 24 goals was responsible for most of the unanticipated expenses." ECF 116 at 3.
25 Specifically, LODAT argued: "Debtor states that all he wanted was a mortgage modification 26 – but this result was refused by the lender – not by Debtor's counsel." Id. The court has 27 considered this argument and has generally allowed LODAT's fees for loan modification 28 and developing strategies for resolving the dispute with the senior home lender, and

1 overruled most, if not all, of Debtor's objections to fees for this work as indicated on the 2 court's Rulings Spreadsheet.

3 In the initial reply, LODAT further argued that Debtor asked its attorney to try to 4 assume a policy of long term care insurance, which generated fees in determining that the 5 odds were low and the effort abandoned, and thus, it should not be penalized for doing 6 what Debtor requested. ECF 116 at 3. The court has allowed some fees for this work as 7 Debtor admitted that he asked LODAT about the long term care insurance, but disallowed 8 some fees because there was no benefit to the estate as the question should have been 9 answered in a shorter period of time.

10 LODAT finally argued that additional work was performed because "Debtor's 11 expectations of the Chapter 11 process morphed throughout the case." ECF 116 at 3.
12 The only specific example of the fees for services performed as a result of this was the 13 proposal of a reverse mortgage as a strategy to keep Debtor and his wife in the home.
14 The court has considered this argument and has overruled most, if not all, of Debtor's 15 objections to fees for this work, generally allowing LODAT's fees for loan modification and 16 developing strategies for resolving the dispute with the senior home lender, including its 17 reverse mortgage suggestion as indicated on the court's Rulings Spreadsheet.

18 In LODAT's supplemental reply to Debtor's opposition, ECF 127, filed on February 25, 19 2019, LODAT argued that "Debtor's most significant challenge is his assertion that Counsel 20 spent an excessive amount of time mechanically entering data into a spreadsheet at a cost 21 of $12,300. Nothing could be further from the truth." ECF 127 at 17.<sup>16</sup> According to 22 LODAT, "[t]hough Counsel attempted to develop suitable (accurate) income and expense 23 information starting in mid-December [2017] (and even working through the New Year 24 holiday), Debtor procrastinated until days before the January 31, 2018 filing deadline.
25 When information was provided, it proved to be inconsistent with bank statement 26

27 <sup>16</sup> The plan spreadsheet was not part of the filed disclosure statement and the plan, but a working document 28 prepared by LODAT to generate the income and expense charts in the attachments to those documents. A version of the plan spreadsheet was attached to Debtor's Amended Declaration as Exhibit 12. ECF 125-2 at 1-5. See also, Debtor's Amended Declaration, ECF 125 at 20-24.

1 information (reflected on the Monthly Operating Reports) or tax return information and, in 2 some cases, defied common sense (examples include no budget line item for clothing, 3 business equipment repairs and maintenance or income taxes). Debtor had still not filed 4 some of his income tax returns making income information unreliable, and information on 5 the unfiled returns was inconsistent with Debtor's representations regarding his income."
6 Id. at 18-19. LODAT said that in order to meet the disclosure statement filing deadline, its 7 attorney reviewed Debtor's monthly operating reports, prepared and sent the spreadsheet 8 and reviewed it with Debtor line by line, communicated with Debtor regarding the various 9 expense items, conferred with Debtor's accountant regarding the reasonableness of 10 expense items, used Microsoft Excel functions to interpolate missing data, calculated 11 averages and attempted other means to gather reliable information. Id. at 19. As indicated 12 in the court's rulings on the fees for the plan and disclosure statement services and 13 Debtor's objections thereto, the problem is that much of this work performed by counsel 14 was clerical in nature because it was compiling numerical data and computing this data to 15 derive historical and projected income and expense figures, which lower cost professionals 16 should have performed, and not a higher billing attorney. The time crunch was 17 manufactured here because LODAT itself procrastinated and did not ask Debtor to 18 produce the income and bank records to derive the numerical data until mid-December 19 2017 when the deadline was approaching a month later at the end of January 2018. This 20 resulted in unnecessary communications and extra work which could have been avoided if 21 LODAT tasked this work to its lower billing paralegals as soon as the engagement begun
22 before it filed the bankruptcy case for Debtor in June 2017, more than six months before 23 the disclosure statement filing deadline of January 31, 2018. The court has considered 24 LODAT's billing entries, Debtor's objections thereto, and LODAT's reply arguments and 25 has made rulings in consideration of these matters as set forth in the attached Rulings 26 Spreadsheet.

27 In LODAT's supplemental reply to Debtor's opposition to the Fee Application, LODAT 28 addresses categories of objections to its fees rather than to the specific objections made

1 by Debtor in his pleadings filed in July 2019. The court has based its rulings primarily on 2 Debtor's objections to specific billing entries in the Fee Application set forth in his July 2019
3 pleadings rather than his more generalized objections in his prior pleadings. LODAT did 4 not file any reply to Debtor's specific objections in July 2019, though at the hearing on 5 August 28, 2019, the court inquired of LODAT if it wished to reply to these specific 6 objections, which it declined. Audio Recording of Hearing, August 28, 2019 at 11:50-11:51
7 a.m. The court lists LODAT's arguments in reply to the generalized objections of Debtor, 8 including fees for "incidental and routine work," fees for "long letters sent in form of emails," 9 fees for "long phone calls," fees for "making contact with nephew," fees for "inflated billing 10 hours (social security)," fees for "back-charging withdrawal fees and costs," fees for 11 "promoting unrealistic financing," fees for "nickle [sic] and diming monthly report charges," 12 fees for "post-withdrawal charges," fees for "half-day disclosure statement hearing" on 13 August 2, 2018 (LODAT states no such fees were charged on the Fee Application), fees 14 for "double charging for service list", fees for "voicemail messages," fees for "file memos", 15 fees for "discovery during the fee dispute process," fees for "continued hearings," fees for 16 "preparing responses to fee application objections," fees for "delegation of tasks," and fees 17 for "lack of communication after motion to withdraw filed." ECF 127 at 5-17. The court has 18 addressed Debtor's objections to the Fee Application under the lodestar method by 19 considering his objections to specific billing entries as set forth in his pleadings in July 20 2019. The court has considered Debtor's generalized objections as addressed in LODAT's 21 supplemental reply and LODAT's arguments in reply to these generalized objections.
22 However, the court does not make specific rulings on the generalized objections, that is, for 23 example, the court does not pass upon a "nickel and diming objection to monthly report 24 charges." The court has considered the billing entries on the Fee Application and Debtor's 25 specific objections thereto pursuant to its review for reasonableness under the applicable 26 factors under 11 U.S.C. § 330 as set forth herein and made its rulings based on these 27 factors as set forth in the Rulings Spreadsheet.

1 viii. Fees Requested for Remaining Fee Categories

2 The court has reviewed LODAT's fees claimed on its fee spreadsheet under the 3 remaining fee categories and has made rulings on the billing entries as set forth in the 4 Rulings Spreadsheet. For the most part, the fees in these remaining categories were 5 allowed as Debtor did not make specific objections to the billing entries in these remaining 6 categories and the court in its review did not find that they should be disallowed.

7 CONCLUSION

8 For the foregoing reasons, the Fee Application of LODAT as amended and 9 supplemented is approved in part and disapproved in part, and professional fees in the 10 amount of $38,720.00 and expenses in the amount of $2,798.19 are approved. A separate 11 final order is being filed and entered concurrently herewith.

12 IT IS SO ORDERED.
